INTRODUCTION

QUALIFIERS
WOMEN'S EHF EURO 2024

The 16th edition of the Women's EHF European Handball Championship, EHF EURO 2024, will be hosted by Austria, Hungary and Switzerland from 28 November to 15 December 2024.

However, before teams can dream of a place at the final tournament, they need to prove themselves in the upcoming qualification phase, which will see 31 countries competing over six rounds between October 2023 and May 2024. The participating nations have been drawn into seven groups of four and one group of three, from where they will fight for the 20 available places remaining at the final tournament, the first Women's EHF EURO to feature 24 teams in total.

After playing on a home-and-away basis in a round-robin system, the two top ranked teams in each group, plus the four best third-placed teams, will progress to the finals. As hosts, Austria, Hungary and Switzerland were automatically assured three of the 24 available spots at the final tournament. Alongside the hosts, the 2022 winners, Norway, have their ticket to the EHF EURO 2024 secured. They will join the three host nations in the second edition of the Women's EHF EURO Cup during the six national team weeks reserved for the qualification phase.

For you, the media, the EHF Media and Communications Department has prepared this media guide to provide a comprehensive overview of all 31 participating teams. It contains an extensive overview of all records of the players and teams, as well as head-to-head statistics for the six qualification groups, tournament history and media contacts at each of the competing national federations.

Silver medalists in 2022 after just falling short against repeat champions Norway in Ljubljana, Denmark will be keenly targeting one of the spots at the final tournament. Playing against Poland and Kosovo in qualification group 8, Denmark will not only aim to reach the final event but will ultimately be hoping to go one step further this time around. France suffered a similar fate in 2021, finishing as runners-up to Norway in the IHF Women's World Handball Championship. Aiming for another medal, the current Olympic champions - who will hope to defend their title on home soil next summer - are up against Slovenia, Italy and Latvia in group 4.

Throughout the qualification phase, the EHF Media and Communications Department will continually update the media with results and news relating to the tournament. However, if you have any questions or queries, the department is only an email away, so please feel free to get in touch with the team in Vienna on media@eurohandball.com.

QUALIFICATION PHASE

31 teams are at the start line for the qualifiers phase for the Women's EHF EURO 2024, looking to book one of the 20 remaining tickets to Austria, Hungary and Switzerland.

For this edition of the Women's EHF EURO, there is only one phase of qualifiers. Beginning on Wednesday 11 October 2023, the participating teams have been drawn into eight groups - seven of four teams, and one of three - and will play home and away fixtures against each team in their group. On Sunday 7 April 2024, seven months before EHF EURO 2024 throws-off, the last of six rounds of fixtures will be completed and we will know our 24 qualified teams, ahead of the biggest Women's EHF EURO in history!

The top two teams in each group will qualify for the finals, as will the four best third-placed teams, meaning some nervy inter-group permutations await! Only the third-ranked teams' results against the top two will count, so as not to put the three teams in group 8 at a disadvantage.

The three host nations, plus the current EHF EURO title holders Norway have qualified automatically, but with so many recent medalists, former champions and up-and-coming teams going head-to-head, the qualifiers phase is sure to provide plenty of enthralling handball!

EHF EURO CUP

Starting on 11 October 2023, parallel to the Women's EHF EURO 2024 qualifiers, the three 2024 host nations, Austria, Hungary and Switzerland, together with 2022 champions Norway, will play the first matches of the EHF EURO Cup 2024. The second women's edition of this competition sees the four participating nations face each other in home and away matches.

With all four teams automatically qualified for EHF EURO 2024, these matches form the participants' very own road to the final tournament in November and December 2024. The EHF EURO Cup was introduced for the first time ahead of the men's continental championships in 2020 and Spain claimed the maiden title, while Norway took the inaugural women's title in 2022.
